

LNV's TAMU scholarship winner announced

DECEMBER 2015

COLLEGE STATION, TEXAS - Rashard D. Harris was the recipient of LNV's endowed scholarship for civil engineering students at Texas A&M University.

"Education plays a critical role in our society and it is important for us to invest in the future of students," said Dan Leyendecker, president of LNV.

This scholarship is intended for at least one freshman or sophomore undergraduate student in civil engineering, who graduated from a Texas high school and maintains a minimum 2.5 GPR.

The photo was taken at the Zachry Department of Civil Engineering's scholarship banquet.

Left to right: Rashard D. Harris, Dan Leyendecker

On behalf of the Zachry Department of Civil Engineering, I would like to thank you for your contributions to the department. Your involvement supports the department's pursuit of excellence, and builds a lasting legacy that will continue to provide for our students. We look forward to a bright future.

R. Antonsieth
Department Head