Leyendecker recognized for support of engineering program at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi

March 2015

CORPUS CHRISTI, TEXAS - Dan Leyendecker was recently honored by Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi with the "Friends of Engineering" award. His support has helped make the new mechanical engineering program a success.

The "Friends of Engineering" award at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi honors the outstanding achievements of supporters for the school of engineering and computing sciences. Honorees are chosen for their significant impact on the development and continued excellence of the facilities, faculty and students.

"This program is going to build the next generation of engineers," said Leyendecker. "I'm honored to have worked with such a great group of people to help make it happen."

Leyendecker was honored March 3 at a luncheon hosted by Dr. Flavius Killebrew, president and CEO of Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi. Sam Beecroft and Jim Barnette were also honored.

Leyendecker serves as president/principal of LNV, Inc., an engineering, architectural, surveying and construction company headquartered in Corpus Christi.
